A photograph of a gallery wall. At the top, there is a black track lighting fixture with two spotlights. On the left and right sides, there are two small, black, lantern-style light fixtures. The wall is a light, textured color. In the lower right foreground, a portion of a mannequin's face is visible, showing its lips and chin. In the center, a small, vintage-style television set is mounted on the wall, displaying a blurry image of a person's face.
